

Intercollegiate Agreement for Cooperation between the Faculty of Mathematics,
Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg,
Federal Republic of Germany and the
Universidad Autónoma de Baja California, Mexico

I. Objectives

In order to promote and develop academic, scientific and cultural ties between Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg and the Universidad Autónoma de Baja California the two faculties of both universities agree to cooperate for mutual benefit in the following areas:

1. Exchange of students
2. Exchange of academic staff
3. Short-term exchange programmes
4. Joint research projects
5. Exchange of information, materials and facilities
6. Other activities by mutual agreement

II. Activities

The two universities agree to cooperate in the following areas:

1. Exchange of groups of students, individual students, academic staff and members of the university on an equivalent basis.
2. Exchange of scientific and technological information, publications, data and facilities.
3. Developing cooperative research programmes or projects, in which both faculties have an interest. The individual agreements for this and especially their financing shall be defined by both universities in supplementary agreements.
4. Promoting scientific and cultural actions, such as, courses, conferences, seminars, workshops, symposiums, etc. of common interest.
5. Opening up of possibilities to acquire academic degrees. Lecturers and students who wish to take part in this programme must satisfy the qualification requirements for enrolment, as specified by the responsible university. The level of financial support shall be set in each individual case.
6. Annual consultations by written correspondence or visits to agree upon the individual activities that will form part of the cooperation for the coming year. The results of this consultation shall become part of the annual plan.

III. Financing

The financing of the joint activities of the institutions involved shall be governed as follows:

1. International travel costs shall be covered by the delegating institution.

2. The salaries of academics participating in an exchange shall be paid by the home institution.
3. Exchange students will pay tuition fees at their home institution. Other associated fees and expenses at the host institution will be the responsibility of the exchange students.
4. Both universities are entitled to obtain joint or separate funding from national or international organizations, as well as government agencies, to acquire resources for joint projects of mutual interest within the scope of the present agreement.
5. All spending for the joint activities must fall within the budget of the individual institutions and shall only be approved with the prior consent of both parties to the agreement.

IV. Scope

In principle, this framework agreement covers all members of the university and students from every institute and faculty from each university.

V. Notice period

This agreement is valid until the end of the academic year 2019/2020 (30th September 2020) and becomes effective from the date of its last signature.

An extension to this agreement is only possible if, after a detailed evaluation both parties of the agreement appraise the partnership to be worthwhile and sustainable for both sides. Moreover, planned activities must be set out.

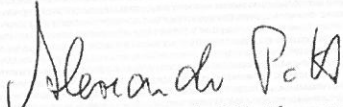

The following applies with regard to the notice period for this agreement:

1. Immediately, upon mutual written agreement between the two universities.
2. 90 days after receipt of a unilateral declaration by one university, whereby it is required that every effort is made to complete the activities of the ongoing academic year.
